

FACTS	What Does Green Tree Servicing LLC Do with Your Personal Information?
Why?	Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.
What?	The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us and may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Identifying information such as your name, address, social security number and other information on how to contact you.</li> <li>• Financial information such as your income, assets, credit worthiness and credit history, as well as employment status; information about your spouse or dependents; and/or certain demographic information.</li> <li>• Transactional information with us and our affiliates, such as account activity and loan terms; and information that is provided to us by third parties, including lenders that have transferred your loan or servicing rights to us, credit reporting agencies, individual reference services, public record databases and other recognized providers of non-public personal information.</li> </ul> When you close your account, we may continue to share information about you according to our policies.
How?	All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business -- to process transactions, maintain customer accounts, and report to credit bureaus. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons Green Tree chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.
